

BIOGRAPHY OF SCIENTIFIC EDITORIAL BOARD

Hariyono Winarto

Dr. Hariyono Winarto, Sp.OG(K) is a Gynecologist Oncologist in Faculty of Medicine Universitas Indonesia at Dr. Ciptomangunkusumo Hospital. He was born in Jakarta, 31 May 1970. He holds a degree as a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology (2003) and as a subspecialist of gynecology oncology (2009) then Doctor in Biomedics in 2014 from the Faculty of Medicine University of Indonesia. During his study as a subspecialist, he joined a research fellowship at Leiden University Medical Hospital (2007). He joined a Clinical fellowship in Universitair Medisch Centrum, Utrecht (2009-2010) as he received a scholarship from the International Gynecologic Oncology Society (IGCS) and Dutch School of Gynecologic Cancer & Pelvic Reconstruction. He has been invited to be a reviewer in several international journals such as Plos One, BMJ, and Asian Pacific Journal of Cancer Prevention etc Currently, he is one of the section editor in Medical Journal of Indonesia and as editorial advisor of Journal of Gynecologic Oncology.

Indah Suci Widyahening

Dr. Indah Suci Widyahening M.S., M.Sc-CMFM, PhD is an Associate Professor in the Community Medicine Department of Universitas Indonesia, with special expertise in Family Medicine and Primary Health Care, Clinical Epidemiology and Evidence-based Medicine. After she completed her medical training in Universitas Indonesia, she obtained a Master of Science in Occupational Health and Safety in Universitas Indonesia, then a Master of Science in Clinical Medicine – Family Medicine from the School of Medicine, University of the Philippines, Manila. She also received a PhD in Clinical Epidemiology from the University Medical Center Utrecht, the Netherlands.

Since 2006, Dr. Widyahening has been coordinated and participated in several nation-wide projects on diabetes including development of guidelines for primary care physicians, development of model for diabetes management in primary health care, training of health professions in management of diabetes and its complications, community empowerment on Non-communicable Diseases (NCD) risks prevention and detection, early detection of tuberculosis and diabetes co-morbidity, as well as developing the screening model for diabetes gestational in primary care. The projects were collaboration with various stakeholders such as the Indonesian Society of Endocrinology, the Indonesian Pediatric Association, the Ministry of Health as well as international organization such as the World Diabetes Foundation.

As a member of the Bernard Lown Scholars in Cardiovascular Health Program 2020 she becomes affiliated to the Harvard Chan School of Public Health while holds position as the Research Manager of the Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization Regional Center for Food and Nutrition (SEAMEO RECFON). She is also advising the Directorate of Non-communicable Diseases of the Ministry of Health of the Republic of Indonesia in initiating the Healthy Campus program in four universities and other primary prevention programs on NCDs.

Chyntia Olivia Maurine Jasirwan

Dr. Chyntia Olivia Maurine Jasirwan, PhD, SpPD, KGEH, FINASIM is a Lecturer in the Hepatobiliary Division, Department of Internal Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Universitas Indonesia/ Cipto Mangunkusumo Hospital. She has actively contributed as a treasurer of the Indonesian Association for the Study of the Liver (Ina ASL). She also has actively contributed as a member of the Indonesian Internal Medicine Association and is one of the editors in Indonesian Internal Medicine Journal, The Indonesian Journal of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, and Digestive Endoscopy, and The Annual International Conference and Exhibition Indonesian Medical Education and Research Institute (ICE on IMERI), Indonesia. Besides, she actively becomes a reviewer of several journals including the ASEAN Journal of Community Engagement, Medical Science Monitor, and Indonesian Internal Medicine Journal.

Shanty Olivia Maurine Jasirwan

Dr. Shanty Olivia F. Jasirwan, Sp.OG(K)FER is a gynecologist and obstetrician in RSIA Hermina Daan Mogot and in RS Hermina Tangerang. She is currently a staff member of Medical Writing Center and research and scientific division of Indonesian Hydration Working Group (IHWG) cluster, Faculty of Medicine, University of Indonesia. She earned her degree as a gynecologist and obstetrician from Faculty of Medicine University (2010) and she pursued Basic Pelvic Surgery Skill fellowship (abdominal gynecologic surgery vaginal surgery, and endoscopy in Utrecht (2012). She has actively participated in a research of Role of DLBS 1442 to treat pain in patients suspected of endometriosis since 2013. She was awarded as SS. Ratnam - Young Generation Award in Asia & Oceania Federation of Obstetric & Gynecology Congress, October in 2013

Eka Dian Safitri

Dr. Eka Dian Safitri, Sp.THT-KL is a staff in the Center of Clinical Epidemiology and Evidence-Based Medicine FMUI- Dr. Cipto Mangunkusumo General Hospital. She was graduated from FMUI as Otorhinolaryngology Specialists (ORL) in 2009. She has actively contributed as one of FMUI lectures for undergraduate students and residents. She has contributed as one of the authors and members of Cochrane Indonesia. Besides, she has received various training, including Workshop Teaching of EBM, Oxford University 2013, Cochrane Colloquium, Edinburgh (2018 and 2016), Guideline International Network, Manchester (2018), 2017 Global Evidence Summit, Cape Town, South Africa. She has conducted several research grants and contracts. She has also actively contributed as one of the reviewers in the Medical Journal of Indonesia and Oto Rhino Laryngologica Indonesiana.

Virna Dwi Oktariana

Dr. dr. Virna Dwi Oktariana, SpM(K) is the head of Glaucoma Division in the Department of Ophthalmology Faculty of Medicine University of Indonesia (FMUI). She was graduated as an ophthalmologist (2004) and subspecialist in Glaucoma (2014) at FMUI.

She has joined Glaucoma Fellowship in Royal Victoria eye and ear hospital, Melbourne (2007) and Royal Perth Hospital dan Lions Eye Institute (2011). She has been actively participating in various research according to her field of expertise. She has a patent called "Virna Glaucoma Implant" and has received Indonesia Healthcare Innovation (INDOHCF) Awards and World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) award in 2017.